When Claude Clambo joins Doreen Dumbroadowitz, Kristy Morteum, Brig. General (Retired) Farnsworth Flatulate, Beatrice Baumont and Gormand Cochant for dinner in the mansion of an eccentric vintner host, the guests begin disappearing one by one in this satiric murder mystery comedy.

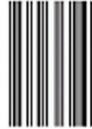

And why the murders? Is it because each guest had a relative who died under suspicious circumstances in their wine cellars? Who could be the murderer? The Maid? The Somalier? Or, the never seen host? It's a bit on the 'been there done that' side, you say? You'll change your mind when you reach the twisted resolution of this verbal slapstick comedy.
